At 10 o'clock very dainty refreshments were served from a beautifully decorated table in the dining room. Pumpkins both large and small were used for a center piece filled with grapes and candle holders with candles at each corner, black cats, witches, etc. The young people did ample justice to the supper of oysters, sandwiches, cake, pumpkin pie and punch. They voted the evening a very jolly one, and wish heartily to return many thanks to Dr. and Mrs. Palmer.
